BETTER DECISIONS, FEWER REGRETS

ANDY STANLEY OFFERS FIVE QUESTIONS FOR MAKING BETTER DECISIONS AND LIVING LIFE WITH FEWER REGRETS

"You write the story of your life one decision at a time."

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 20, 2020 — Everyone has a few regrets. Some regrets are inconsequential, others life-altering. Most could have been avoided. Andy Stanley, a popular communicator, pastor, podcaster, and television host, has his share of regrets, but he's found a way to keep the list short. His secret lies in five simple questions.

Andy credits his dad, Charles Stanley, for helping him make a connection between good questions and good decisions many years ago. Today Andy helps readers tap into the power of good questions to shape a life free of regret. His new book is entitled Better Decisions, Fewer Regrets: 5 Questions to Help You Determine Your Next Move (Zondervan, October 2020).

"Life is all about decision-making. Every day. Multiple times a day," Andy Stanley writes. "Some of us are quick to decide. Others of us (me included) can't ever get enough information before we decide. But in the end, we are where we are because of decisions we've made. The story of your life is written one decision at a time."

Andy Stanley is the founder of North Point Ministries, host of a leadership podcast and a national television program airing each weekend on NBC and CBS. Andy travels worldwide, bringing his straight-shooting, conversational speaking style to churches and leadership conferences.

Andy firmly believes that good questions lead to better decisions. His new book, Better Decisions, Fewer Regrets, offers readers five catalytic questions that lead to better decisions. "My purpose in writing this book is to give you the questions ahead of time," Andy explains. "Not all the questions. But five questions I'm convinced will result in better decisions and fewer regrets. Five questions to ask every time you make a decision of any consequence."

"Andy Stanley's insight will help both organizations and individuals make better decisions," says Jesse Hillman, Vice President of Marketing for Zondervan Reflective. "Better Decisions, Fewer Regrets delivers sound advice, practical steps, and immediate results." The book launch will be supported by a national publicity campaign, digital advertising, a special launch event with Andy, and an accompanying Resource Library with additional tools.
